SKILL	1	2	3	1
General Control of the Control of th				1
Understands the general concepts behind seeding a meet
Understands the difference between a pre-seeded meet and a deck-seeded meet
Demonstrates understanding of how events can be seeded (slowest to fastest, fastest to slowest, alternating men with women, "pyramid" or circle seeding)
Understands that in distance events, the normal order of heats may be reversed by swimming the fastest heats first and/or alternating women's and men's events				I
Understands that individual entry cards should list the first and last name of the swimmer, age, event #, event name, and distance being swum				T
Understands that relay cards should list the first and last name, age, and order of swimming for all competitors swimming in the event, as well as the event #, event name, and distance being swum.				T
Understands that depending upon the procedures used at a given meet, relay cards may be returned to the clerk of course to be seeded or may be brought to the blocks by the relay team at the time of their competing in the event
Understands that the composition of a relay team may be changed between Prelims and Finals, and that all members of a relay team, disqualified in prelims, may not compete in Finals
Understands that there should be no fewer than three swimmers in any heat
Understands the use of a positive check-in period. Understands that there may be different penalties associated with not checking in for an event, and that these penalties are listed in the Meet Invitation Understands the purpose of a scratch period.
Understands that the order of events laid out in a heat sheet may not be changed and the arrangement of heats in any event can not be added to or altered, except by authority of the Referee, and then only to consolidate heats
Understands that effective communication with the coaches, announcer, and Referee is essential				T
Understands the importance of not having too many heats of swimmers behind the blocks				T
Knows what supplies may be needed by a Clerk of Course to effectively run a meet				T
leet Management				t
Accepts late entries into open lanes following meet procedures, and provides updated information to the Referee and Recorder				T
Oversees positive check-ins, closes the positive check-ins at the designated time, and routes the positive check-in sheets as directed by the Referee or Administrative Supervisor				Ī
Calls for scratches according to guidelines listed in the meet invitation				T
Oversees the scratch period, closes the scratch period at the designated time, and routes the scratches as directed by the Referee or Administrative Supervisor				I
Calls for the first event at least ten minutes before the scheduled starting time				T
Alerts the Announcer to call up events periodically throughout the meet				T
Notifies the Referee of any consolidated heats or swimmers being moved to new lanes				+
Maintains good meet flow by ensuring that the next heat of swimmers has been brought to the blocks in time for the start of their race				1
When a swimmer does not promptly report for an event after the final call, they are scratched from the event; taking into consideration that athletes still in the water or who are waiting to swim in a preceding event cannot report for a final call, and that accommodations may need to be made (particularly in Mini meets). (If such a penalty is to be used, it must first be made known)
